There will be tables around the swimming pool and dancing under the stars next Sunday at Firenze House, one of Washington's most beautiful estates.

It will be a truly relaxed occasion, a benefit barbecue bash with the famous LBJ barbecue king, Walter Jetton, coming up from Texas for the event. The 6-10 p.m. gala will benefit Washington's Children's Hearing and Speech Center, with Mrs. John Logan (above left), honorary chairman, opening the grounds of her spacious estate at 2800 Albemarle St. NW for the occasion.

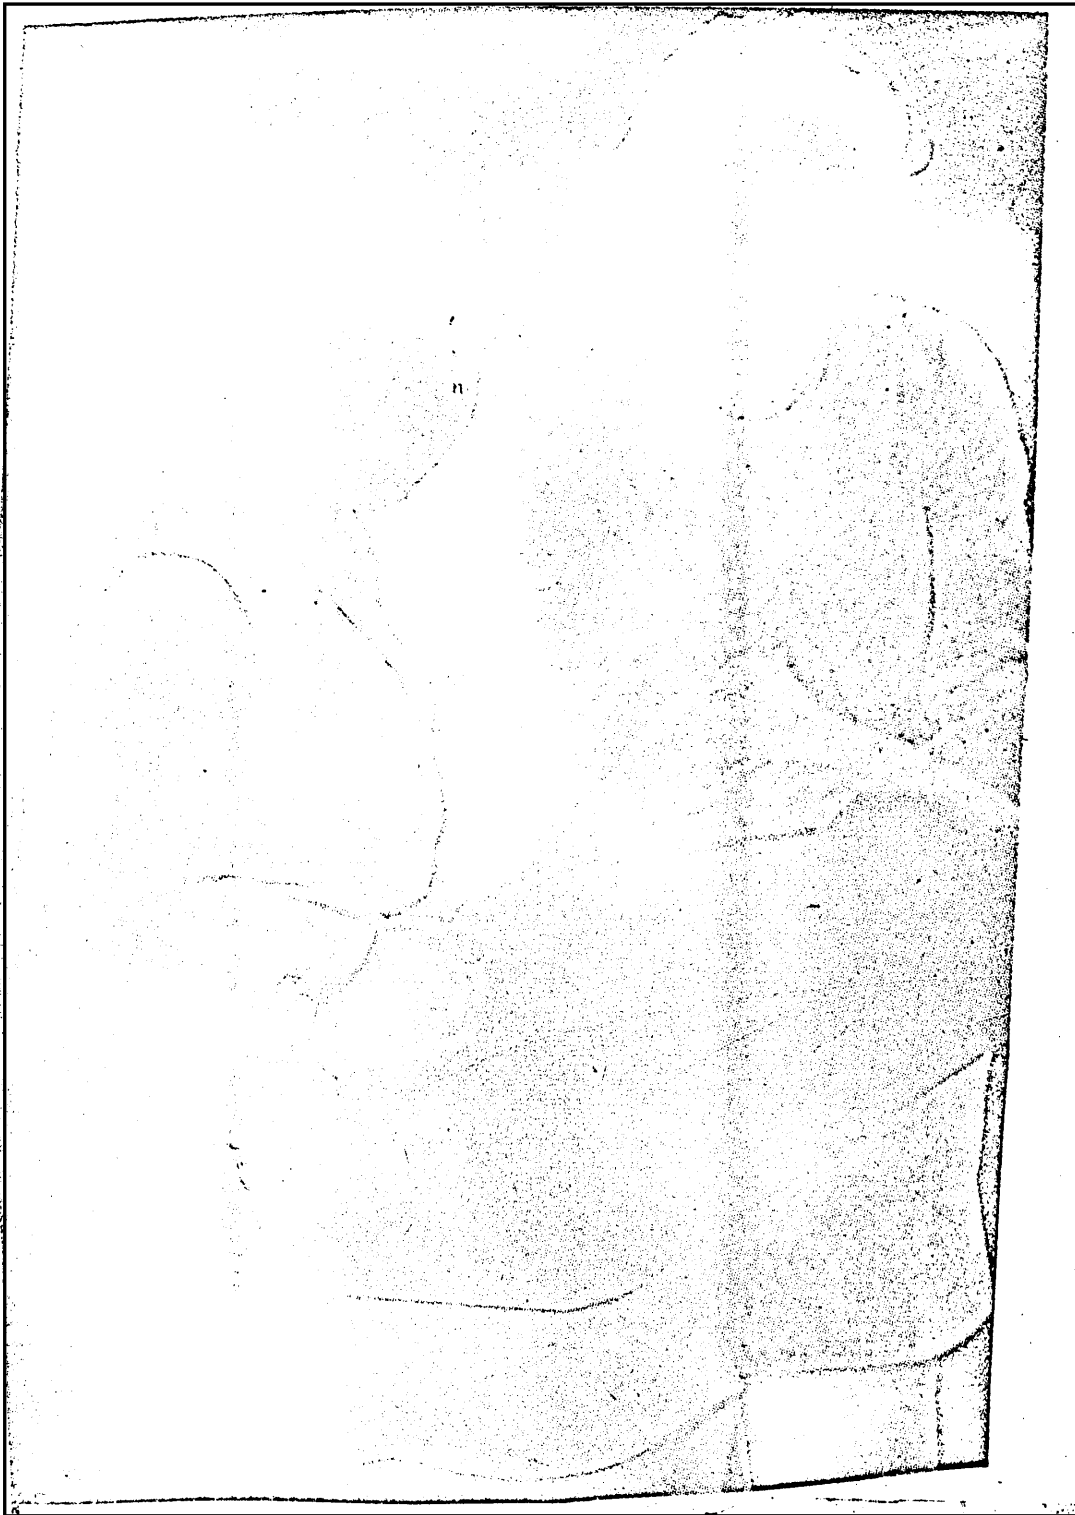

Mrs. Desmond FitzGerald, chairman of the board of the children's center, and

Mrs. Logan, a member of the center's board, inspect architectural plans for a new third floor to house 40 children now awaiting treatment at the hearing and speech center. (A story on Mrs. FitzGerald and her role in creating and supporting this unique children's institution in the Washington area is on Page G-16)
